The Faculty of Medicine of the University of Geneva and the University Hospitals of Geneva are seeking applications for a position of

Full or Associate Professor,
Head of the Division of Neonatology and Pediatric Intensive Care

CHARGE: This is a University Hospital position as Head of the Division of Neonatology and Pediatric Intensive Care, including a fraction of professor's position. This position is attached to the academic Department of Pediatrics, Gynecology and Obstetrics, and the Hospital Department of Woman, Child and Adolescent.

The candidate should have an extensive clinical record in pediatric intensive care along with outstanding managerial and leadership skills to lead a Division at the cutting-edge of technology, whose role is central for the Children's Hospital and for the development of highly specialized pediatric medicine in Geneva. She-He should also have abilities to collaborate with other Divisions in a transversal perspective.

The successful candidate will possess the capacity to conduct high-level clinical and translational research in the area of pediatric intensive care and/or neonatology. In addition, He-She will have mentoring skills, and be dedicated to a strong medical education at the undergraduate and postgraduate levels to maintain the Division as a certified training center.

TITLES AND QUALIFICATIONS REQUIRED :

M.D. title and board certifications in general pediatrics and in critical care medicine, or equivalent, are required. A complementary formation in neonatology would be a plus. Good knowledge of French.

Relevant experience as an independent investigator and teacher. Publications in leading international journals.
